Monday evening 10 pm

In the distance, the television is playing a late night talk show. On the windows, raindrops gently tap away. Reluctantly, you open your eyes. The aftermath of the weekend took over again. But you smile, because you wake up in Luv. Our modular couch that you will happily indulge in every evening. Luv thrives when you seek her out. Her comfort provides a coziness that makes you instantly forget a cold winter's night. Effortlessly you sink into her. She is like a warm blanket you wrap around you. However, Luv also brings a kind of summer freshness into your home. Her design appears light, especially when you combine her low backs with our refined armrests. Luv is mighty in her modularity. That asset also ensures that this couch surprises you with a clever option. Between its modular parts, you can opt for a built-in coffee table.

It is the ideal place to put your aperitif or cup of tea, because your glass is always within reach. Thanks to the compact storage space of the coffee table, you can even put away your aesthetically pleasing coffee table books. Or that iPad your kids did not know you had. Is your living room longing for some extra color? Then Luv will brighten up in no time thanks to a bouquet of other wooden centerpieces.

durable seating comfort: a force from within

It's like they say. It's the inside that matters. Although Luv is destined to be an eyecatcher that brings instant character to your living space - or any space - the true relaxing experience comes from within. If you would cut the upholstery you'd firsthand experience the extreme quality of our selected high density cold foam, famous Dacron cotton wool and Interior springs Nosag springs. Yes, we went over the top to implement worlds finest materials in your Float. Cause although invisible to the eye, these insides provide endless ultimate seating experiences. This is what we stand for. This is the only way to wear the Luv name with pride.

ultimately refined craftsmanship

The love you feel for Luv as soon as you seek her out, is the result of Indera's ultimately refined craftsmanship. Your well-being has been our driving force since the beginning. That's why a team of designers, engineers and craftsmen spent about two years delving into the core of your comfort. The result? An exclusive and patented relax mechanism known worldwide as EP3420856A1.

Thanks to that critical refinement and extensive expertise, Luv houses the ultimate combination of high-quality materials and modern techniques. Her guarantee is your optimal comfort to relax daily, and for many more decades to come. Your seating experience is our art.
